Hobbies:

I don't have that many hobbies, but those that I do are pretty interesting, at least for me. This week I didn't have that much time for my hobbies, because I was studying for the entrance exams to other schools. I hope that at least today evening, I will have more time to watch or play something or just talk to some friends.

My favourite hobbies:

My favourite hobbies mostly center around the nintendo franchise, such as: playing pokémon games, yo-kai watch games, tomodachi life etc.

My friends:

Me and my friends usually talk on a discord server, that we're all in. But sadly, I don't have much time to speak with them due to my studies. I'm hoping that I'll be able to talk to them over the holiday break. We often play games together or one of us is streaming and the others are watching. We just hang out a bunch.

My tasks for this week:

- Do all homework
- Study for the exams
- Take care of Kuro
- Clean my room at the end of the week

Things i haven't done yet:

- Packed my things
- Felt relaxed
- Played games
- Went to dad's place

Was it a successful week?

In terms of work, it was astonishing to witness the amount of progress i made in a single week. But in terms of fun, it sucked. I'm hoping tha the next week will be a little more balanced.
