During distance learning - did you get sufficient amount of feedback on your work?

17 odpovědí

Yes

Yes I did.

Yes

Yes, and I am glad. Probably sufficient amount for online school.

Yes, the teachers always wrote something when correcting my work.

yes, I'd even say it was a bit better since I was able to return to the comments on the google classroom assignment

I think so, especially on our writing assignments, the teachers would always give very helpful feedback.

Yeah, every time I send homework or an essay I got feedback. I think it was really helpful and it definitely help me.

Yes. I got it graded within a few days and almost always, I got to see what I did wrong and correct it.

It was enough

I got good enough information but nothing too detailed

yes

yes, it helped me a lot of times.

In most of my classes I did, except for our Czech class

I did get feedback and I must admit that's what I liked about our classes - we heard from the teachers

Did you know how to improve/correct your assignments? Please, explain.

17 odpovědí

Yes

I think I knew how. It was well-written.

Yes Sometimes i did it but it depends on teachers feedback

For English I knew very well, if that's the question. In other subjects (chemistry, biology) it was a bit of a problem.

For some assignments, I knew what I had to correct. For others, I was aware that I had a mistake, but I had to look for it.

yes, I don't know how should I explain though because I just knew

I personally only had to correct one or two assignments and I had no problem correcting them because I could always find the mistakes easily or they were already explained to me in the comments by my teachers.

I didn't have much mistakes but if I have I corrected them. Teacher always make very good feedback so it was easy to correct it.

Yes the feedback was already there

Yes I do. I just have to find out what the teacher marked wrong and then I have to come up with the right answer.

I carefully read the comments and correct my assignment

yes, I did get some comments on my work

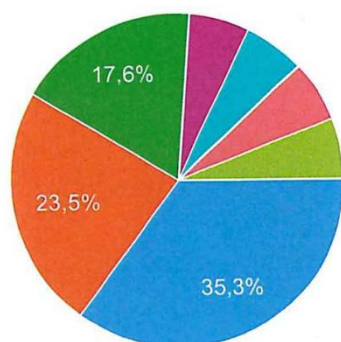

always, because from the feedback I always understood what to change

I did. The teachers usually wrote us direct list of things we needed to correct, so I didn't have any problems with correcting or improving my assignments.

How did you find the possibility to correct your work till Monday, 3 p.m.?
